Becky:

I'm going to be working from home today, so I'll need to call in to our 11:00 call. Can you assist with a call-in number, or give me a call? I'll be at my cell, (b) (6)

It sounds like we won't be able to make this date either for a visit of PPM. We will be prepared, however, to meet and discuss the RAWP.

That's what I am thinking. Meet at PPM offices to review EPA's comments on the RAWP and then do a tour. Still thinking that we would meet at 9:30 am, talk about comments for +/-1 hr(?), and then tour the transloading area. Let me know if you think that would work.

Unfortunately, I am tied up in other meetings for most of the afternoon. What time are you thinking? Would we be trying to squeeze it in during the AM and then have the meeting there to talk over EPA's comments on the RAWP? I have to be at the Port for a meeting in the afternoon.

Cc'ing the other folks who'd I would want to come take a tour of the transloading facility.

There has been some rescheduling of the PPM project I mentioned that was going to be starting next week. We can now meet at their facility on Thursday (the same day as our meeting) and tour the area that will be used for transloading. Would that work for you and your team?
